

I was appointed in September 2013 to serve as the Director in District No. 2. As a licensed Marriage and Family Therapist, I work with kids of all ages and their families around a variety of issues that absolutely impact their school experiences. I am very interested in the social-emotional learning that takes place in our schools and helping to develop programs that focus on increasing the emotional intelligence of our kids in the White River School District. Emotional intelligence programs and accessible support systems in schools can provide a context that allows for high levels of learning for students.

My now adult children have already graduated from the White River School District and I'm excited to be a part of a district that is student-centered and progressive in implementing high-quality professional development for our teachers and supportive resource programs for our students. The positive psychological, emotional and relational health of our kids create resiliency, allowing them to weather the storms of life as they develop, learn and grow. The White River School District recognizes this and makes this a priority in kids' learning.
